

Assessing Wildlife on a Property You're Buying

Check out this article released on LandThink.com by Rod Osterloh, of LandRadar.com by Close~Converse Properties, about how to assess wildlife on a piece of property you may potentially buy.

Rod has 30-plus years of real estate experience, and specializes in helping recreational property buyers in north-central Minnesota, he is also a member of Potlatch's Preferred Broker Network as well as the Realtors Land Institute.

How Do You Assess the Wildlife on a Property You Are Considering?

For recreational property buyers, both the quality and type of wildlife on a property are extremely important, whether you are looking to hunt on the land or simply want to enjoy being surrounded by nature.
