

Gear Up! Time to Get Ready for Fall Hunting

As the fall hunting season draws closer, it's a great time to go through your gear, do some research on your favorite hunting areas, and take steps to make sure you are ready.

A roundup of tips in a story on the NorthAmericanWhitetail.com website lists some obvious things to think about, like checking your equipment and setting up trail cameras at your favorite hunting spots.

But the story also has some tips you may not have thought about:

- Sight in your guns or bows now, so you don't have to worry about waiting in line at the shooting range as fall draws closer.
- It's a good time to talk to farmers in the areas where you want to hunt. They will know the deer's habits, and where they are feeding. That could be invaluable information come hunting season.

If you've been thinking about having your own property to hunt on this fall, it's also a great time to find the perfect property for your recreational needs.
